Dear County Commissioners and Citizens of Goodhue County,

As I write my annual letter to you and to the 47,000 citizens of Goodhue County, I do so with a deep sense of humility and gratitude. I am continually humbled by the unwavering support our staff receives from both the County Board and the citizens we serve. That support is what motivates all of us to strive to improve every single day.

Serving as your Sheriff has been the most rewarding role of my 37-year career in law enforcement. I have each of you and the dedicated men and women of our office to thank for that privilege.

Regardless, our commitment remains constant. In this report, we have worked diligently to provide a transparent and comprehensive look at the work our staff performs 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Their dedication to protecting and serving this county never stops.

That dedication will not change. We remain fully committed to making Goodhue County a safe and thriving place to live, work, and visit.

I hope you find the report informative and worthwhile. Please do not hesitate to reach out to me with any questions or concerns.

Investigations

The Investigation Division is staffed by three full-time investigators, one investigator assigned on a two-year rotating basis, two School Resource Officers (SROs) serving Pine Island and Zumbrotta-Mazeppa Schools, and one computer forensic examiner. The division is overseen by Captain Collins Voxland.

The Investigations Division handled several case referrals in 2025. These referrals encompassed a wide range of investigations, including assaults, physical and sexual child abuse, thefts, burglaries, narcotics investigations, death investigations, fraud, ICAC, Human Trafficking and other cases requiring in-depth investigative attention.

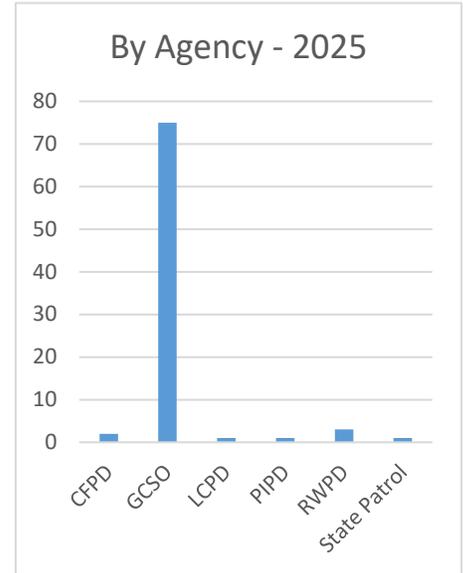

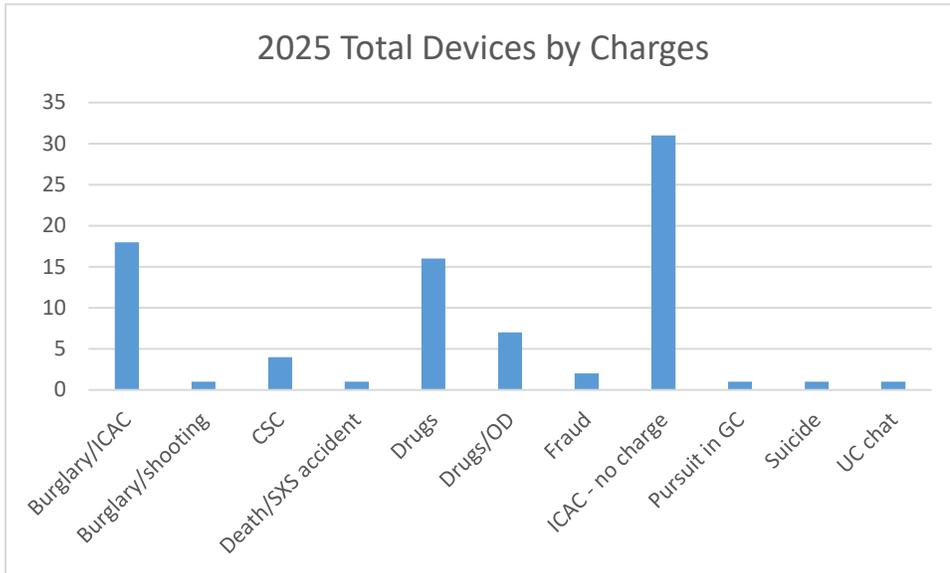

The division continues to be an active participant in the Southeast Minnesota Violent Crimes Enforcement Team (VCET). Two investigators are assigned to VCET, where they conduct primary narcotics investigations while also maintaining a regular caseload within Goodhue County. VCET members regularly assist partner agencies throughout the southeast Minnesota region.

Additionally in 2025, one investigator is now assigned to the Minnesota BCA Human Trafficking Task Force, handling human trafficking investigations while maintaining a regular caseload. During the summer of 2025, Investigator Erdman successfully completed specialized training in Undercover Chatting, with the goal of helping protect youth from grooming, victimization, trafficking, assault, and solicitation. While these efforts have always been a priority in Goodhue County, Investigator Erdman was the first to complete this training and immediately applied the skills he learned in an active investigation. Investigator Erdman's human trafficking investigation was successful in locating and arresting a subject soliciting a juvenile for sex.

The Sheriff’s Office Computer Forensic Examiner remains extremely busy assisting county investigators and local law enforcement agencies by extracting digital evidence from cell phones, computers, and other electronic devices collected during investigations. The examiner inspected 83 devices from a wide range of investigations. The examiner is also a member of the Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension (BCA) Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force.

The Investigations Division has seen an uptick in more complex fraud schemes involving the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and cryptocurrency, particularly Bitcoin. These scams are becoming increasingly sophisticated, by using AI tools to create convincing impersonations, fake videos, and fake personal accounts to name a few. These scams originate from multiple sources, both domestically and internationally, making investigation and prosecution more challenging.

To help combat and better understand these complex schemes, we will be sending our Forensic Examiner to the National Cyber Crime Conference in the spring of 2026. Investigators have also been actively seeking additional training related to Artificial Intelligence and cryptocurrency to strengthen our office’s ability to detect, investigate, and prevent these emerging threats.

To help combat the rising number of outstanding arrest warrants in Goodhue County, a Warrant Task Force (WTF) was created. The task force’s mission is to locate and apprehend individuals with outstanding warrants, with emphasis on felony-level and violent offenders. The goal is to ensure arrests are intelligence-driven, evidence-supported, and coordinated for officers and public safety. Currently, there are over 650 active Goodhue County warrants.

The Sheriff’s Office continues to staff two School Resource Officers; one assigned to Pine Island Schools and one to Zumbrota-Mazeppa Schools.

The D.A.R.E. program remains active within the Zumbrota Mazeppa schools. In addition, 2025 marked the first-year SRO Pierre Maves taught a D.A.R.E. class at Pine Island Schools. The program was well-received, and additional classes are planned for the coming year.

SRO Tiedemann was also the lead instructor for an Introduction to Law Enforcement course at Zumbrota-Mazeppa Schools. Thirteen students participated in the class, all of whom expressed interest in law enforcement careers. The course covered a wide variety of law enforcement topics, with assistance from several law enforcement professionals who helped instruct the students.

Emergency Services

Overview

In 2025, the Emergency Services Division continued to deliver reliable public safety communications and emergency management services while advancing major infrastructure, technology, and workforce initiatives. Through strategic investment, regional collaboration, and disciplined governance, the division maintained exceptional performance despite increasing call volumes, system complexity, and staffing demands.

Emergency Services operations are supported by strong regional partnerships and stakeholder collaboration. In 2025, the division remained actively engaged in regional 9-1-1 coordination, ARMER governance, and interagency planning efforts. Ongoing collaboration with neighboring counties, public safety agencies, County IT, and state partners strengthened interoperability, system resilience, and next-generation 9-1-1 readiness while ensuring local operational needs were represented in regional decision-making.

Emergency Communications Center

(PSAP) Performance

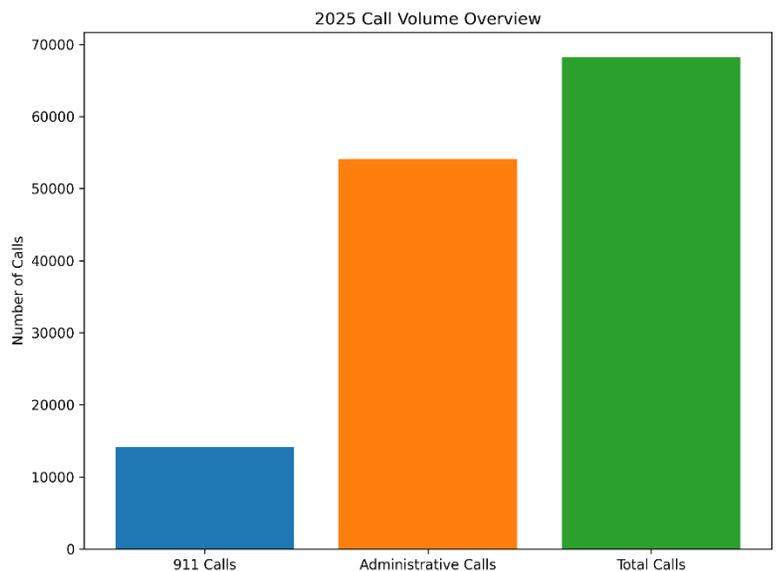

Call Volume and Demand

During 2025, the Emergency Communications Center handled 68,254 total calls, including 14,133 inbound 9-1-1 calls and 54,121 administrative calls. Seasonal trends remained consistent, with peak call volumes occurring during summer months and large community events.

Abandoned 9-1-1 calls totaled 607, representing an annual abandoned call rate of 4.29%, consistent with industry norms and largely attributable to wireless misdials rather than system delays.

Call Answering Performance

Call answering performance remained exceptional:

- 99.07% of 9-1-1 calls answered within 10 seconds
- 99.58% answered within 15 seconds
- 99.75% answered within 20 seconds
- 99.98% answered within 40 seconds

These results substantially exceed state and national benchmarks and reflect strong staffing, training, and system reliability.

Call Distribution and Technology Trends

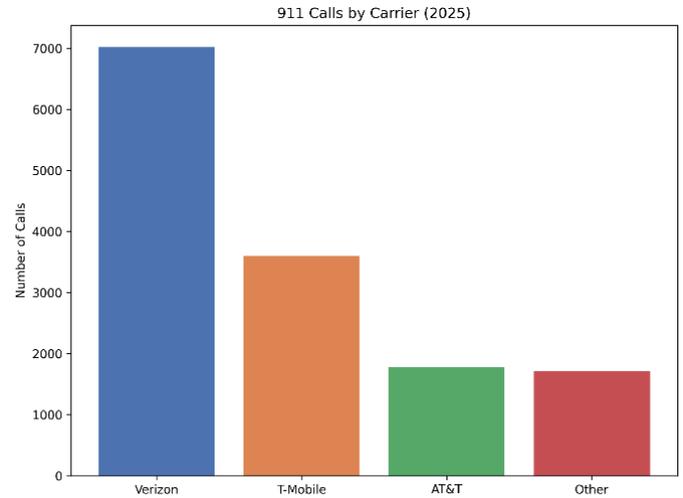

Call activity peaked between 0900 and 1800 hours, with the busiest hour occurring in the 1600–1700 timeframe. Nearly 90% of 9-1-1 calls originated from wireless carriers, reinforcing the importance of NG911-ready infrastructure and IP-based resiliency.

Text-to-911 continued to provide a critical alternative access method, particularly for callers unable to safely place a voice call.

Quality Assurance

Quality assurance activity remained strong in 2025:

- 54 evaluations completed
- 100% above-average performance
- Average QA score: 97.99%
- No below-average evaluations recorded

Workforce, Training, and Staffing

Training Investment

In 2025, Emergency Communications staff completed a total of 1,011 documented training hours, reflecting a sustained investment in professional development, compliance, and operational readiness

Training hours covered initial and ongoing dispatcher training, policy updates, system changes, quality improvement, and specialized communications topics. This commitment directly supports call-handling performance, quality assurance outcomes, and workforce resilience.

Staffing Updates

In November and December 2025, the PSAP hired two new Public Safety Telecommunicators, both bringing prior PSAP experience. Their background has allowed for an accelerated training trajectory.

Communications Infrastructure and Modernization

Non-Emergency Call Handling Modernization

In 2025, the Sheriff’s Office transitioned its non-emergency phone line to a fully digital VoIP platform, coupled with the implementation of an Interactive Voice Response (IVR) system. This modernization improves reliability, routing flexibility, and caller self-service while intentionally reducing the volume of routine non-emergency calls handled directly by Public Safety Telecommunicators.

The overall goal of this initiative is to lighten non-emergency call processing workload, allowing PSTs to remain focused on time-critical 9-1-1 and emergency communications.

ARMER Radio System and Capital Infrastructure

System Performance and Utilization

In 2025, the ARMER radio system remained the primary communications backbone for public safety operations across Goodhue County. System use reflected strong governance, subscriber accountability, and regional coordination. The Goodhue County ARMER site (Zone 3, Site 40) maintained a 99.2% system uptime, reinforcing its reliability as a mission-critical asset.

During the year, users generated 3,017,416 push-to-talk transmissions, totaling approximately 8,000 hours of radio airtime. This sustained level of activity underscores ARMER's capacity to support daily operations, extended incidents, special events, and complex multi-agency responses without degradation of service.

Capital Infrastructure Investment

In 2025, HVAC systems were replaced at three ARMER radio sites—Pine Island Tower, Aspen Tower, and Sand Hill Tower. Each site is equipped with dual HVAC units, providing full redundancy and precise environmental control for mission-critical communications equipment.

This proactive investment reduces the risk of equipment failure, unplanned outages, and emergency repairs while extending the service life of critical infrastructure and avoiding significantly higher long-term replacement costs.

Mobile Command and Communications Vehicle (MCCV)

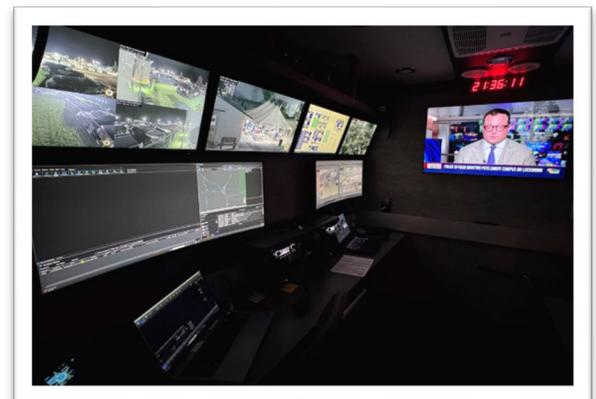

The Mobile Command and Communications Vehicle (MCCV) was deployed 22 times in 2025 in support of incidents, training, maintenance, and community events. Deployments included command support, communications augmentation, exercises, inspections, and public safety outreach, demonstrating the MCCV's value as a scalable, multi-purpose asset.

Auxiliary Communications (AUXCOMM) Unit – Redundancy and Resilience

In 2025, the Sheriff's Office formally established the Auxiliary Communications (AUXCOMM) Unit as a deliberate enhancement to communications redundancy and continuity of operations. The unit consists of four trained all-volunteer members.

Members received training on ARMER operations, EOC workflows, and the integration of amateur (ham) radio capabilities into public safety response. The unit provided operational support during the Goodhue County Fair, staffing an evening shift in the MCCV and validating real-world integration with Emergency Communications operations.

AUXCOMM represents a low-cost, high-value investment in resilience by adding an auxiliary communications layer that can support operations during extended incidents or infrastructure disruptions.

This year was marked by significant progress in preparedness, interagency coordination, and community safety. Emergency Management focused on strengthening response capabilities through hands-on training, expanding public-facing safety initiatives, advancing long-term planning efforts, and acquiring new resources to enhance situational awareness during large public events. Through strong partnerships with local responders, schools, regional agencies, and state and federal partners, the office continued to build a more resilient and prepared county while maintaining readiness for both planned events and emerging incidents.

Training and Preparedness

- Hosted a H.E.R.T. (Hostile Event Response Training) course at Goodhue Schools, training over 100 area first responders in coordinated response to hostile events.
- Collaborated with Zumbrota Fire, Goodhue Fire, Zumbrota Ambulance, and Cannon Falls Ambulance to plan and execute a Mass Casualty Incident (MCI) exercise involving a simulated school bus rollover at the Goodhue County Fairgrounds.
- Participated in the Southeast Regional Emergency Managers School Safety Summit, focused on preparing school officials for hostile events, severe weather, and other natural disasters.

Engagement

- Partnered with local schools and neighboring counties to support the Indoor Mapping for Schools initiative. Participated in this statewide grant program administered by the State of Minnesota, which maps public and private schools that opt into the program to enhance responder safety and situational awareness during emergencies.

Disaster Response and Planning

- Began a comprehensive rewrite of the County Emergency Operations Plan (EOP), with the goal of final approval in 2026.
- Hosted a part-time Emergency Management intern during the summer of 2025, an Emergency Management major from North Dakota State University (NDSU), who supported planning, preparedness, and operational projects.

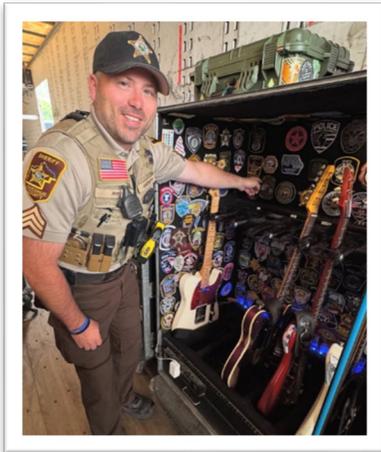

New Resources Acquired

- Modernized the Goodhue County Emergency Operations Center (EOC) to meet current and future needs.
- Acquired a Mobile Camera Trailer through the FEMA Port Security Grant Program.
 - Deployed the camera trailer at city festivals in Lake City, Red Wing, Pine Island, Goodhue, and Zumbrota to enhance public safety and situational awareness.
 - When not assigned to festivals, the trailer was staged at the levee wall during cruise ship dockings, providing additional monitoring and security support.

Looking Ahead

The Emergency Services Division remains focused on workforce sustainability, infrastructure resilience, and strategic modernization. Continued investment in training, communications systems, and redundancy ensures Goodhue County remains prepared to meet evolving public safety demands.

Drone Team

In 2025, the Drone Team continued to expand its capabilities, capacity, and readiness through strategic equipment upgrades and a strong emphasis on pilot training and proficiency. The team replaced one aging drone and added two additional airframes, strengthening the overall fleet and improving operational flexibility. Significant time was invested in pilot training and skill development to ensure safe, effective, and mission-ready operations. The team also grew its personnel, adding new pilots and ensuring that each patrol team now has at least one assigned FAA Part 107 licensed drone pilot, enhancing coverage and response capability across the county.

ADC

In October, the ADC added state of the art technology paid for through the Opioid settlement grant. GUARDIAN RFID is a comprehensive technology platform used primarily in correctional facilities (jails and prisons) to manage and track inmates in real-time. Think of it as a digital replacement for traditional paper logs and manual headcounts. Its primary goal is to improve safety, increase staff accountability, and protect the facility against lawsuits by providing a "digital paper trail" of every interaction.

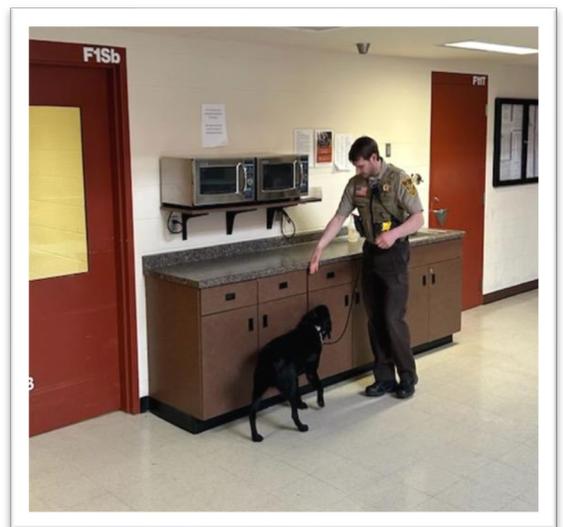

The system involves three main components:

- RFID Identification: Inmates wear RFID-enabled wristbands to track movements, document everything from meal delivery and medication passes to inmate behavior and officer observations.
 - "Hard tags" (RFID chips) are also placed at specific locations throughout the facility, such as on cell doors or in common areas. RFID chips are used to document mandatory wellbeing checks every 25 minutes.
- SPARTAN Devices: Officers carry ultra-rugged handheld Android devices (called SPARTANs). When an officer performs a task, they scan the inmate's wristband or the location's hard tag to create an instant, time-stamped record.
- Command Cloud: All data is synced to a secure cloud platform where supervisors can monitor compliance, run reports, and receive alerts in real-time.

K9

K9 Handler Chad Juliar and K9 Clark were certified in drug detection. Chad and K9 Clark are assigned specifically to the ADC but will also make appearances at special events and do drug detection in the schools.

Communication Services

For multiple years, the Goodhue County Adult Detention Center had contracted with Securus Technologies for inmate communication services. The contract expired November 5, 2025, so a decision was made to post a Request for Proposal to ascertain what other vendors could offer and to determine the best provider for those services moving forward. All vendors were invited to make a presentation, and a decision was made from the proposal and the presentation that Turnkey Corrections could offer the inmates the best product. The ADC already had a current contract in place with Turnkey Corrections for vending and meal services for the inmates, and the Sheriff's Office has had a strong, positive relationship with Turnkey Corrections over the years.

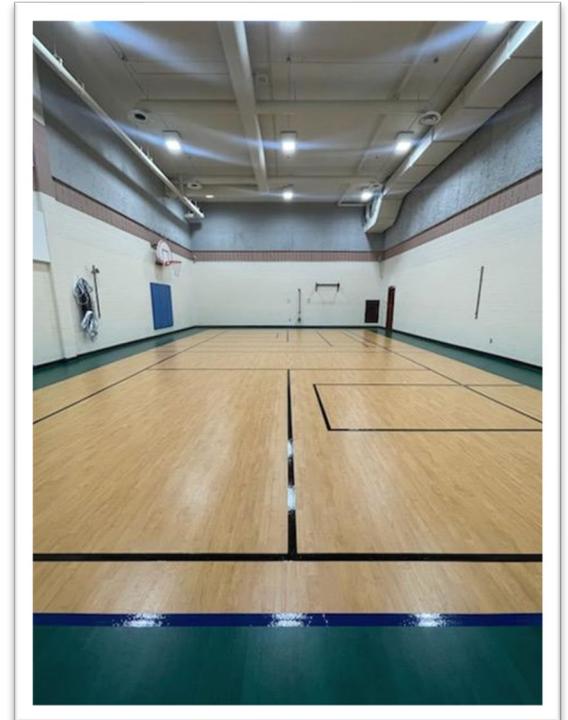

There is no cost to the taxpayers, as all expenses are charged to the inmates or family and friends of the inmates. In addition, the Inmate Improvement Fund will generate a commission of 30 percent on most communication services.

New Gym Floor

The ADC updated the flooring in the gym. It was a $50,000 project all paid through the Inmate Improvement Fund. No taxpayer dollars were used.

Programs

- February 18 – March 7: The ADC had six detainees complete and graduate from the Foundations in Manufacturing and OSHA Certification course, provided by Minnesota State College Southeast. Each participant received college credits as well as became OSHA certified.
- The ADC Programs director held presentations at Zumbrota and Pine Island schools and taught students what programs are offered to the incarcerated individuals.
- The ADC held Towards Zero Death presentations to the incarcerated individuals. TZD was a 30-minute presentation on Traffic Safety and Distracted – Impaired driving. Each participant received a certificate of completion.
- Effective October 20, Goodhue County took over the Sentence to Serve (STS) program following the state's elimination of funding earlier this year. The program is now operated by Goodhue County and provides services exclusively for Goodhue County residents.

Training

The goal is to provide effective and relevant training to ADC staff, contract staff, and volunteers while meeting all training standards set by both the Goodhue County ADC and the Minnesota Department of Corrections. Training will be developed and delivered in a cost-effective manner that benefits Goodhue County, with an emphasis on helping ADC staff better utilize local resources. Chaplain Program

The Goodhue County Sheriff's Office has a chaplain program which provides crisis response, death notifications, and support during critical incidents. In addition, our chaplains often assist victims and families during emergencies, offering comfort and guidance regardless of religious affiliation. By strengthening morale, promoting wellness, and fostering trust between the sheriff's office and the public, a chaplain program enhances the overall effectiveness and compassion of the agency's service to the community.

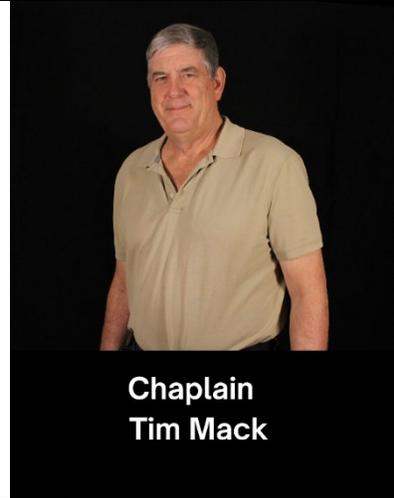

In 2025, the chaplains were involved in 11 cases including three death notifications, three death scenes, two domestics, one medical and one accident. The chaplains also began working with the Minnesota Sheriff's Association promoting chaplaincy in sheriff's offices throughout Minnesota.

The chaplains continue to work with other nonprofits and organizations to expand available free services for our deputies and the public including the following areas: abuse/assault, addiction treatment, support for the families of addicts, grief support, marriage and family issues, PTSD prevention and treatment, stress management and support for victims of any trauma.
